Brothers – we’re all going through uncharted waters with the global coronavirus pandemic. We have all been affected in some way or another albeit through our jobs being impacted, our small businesses being effected but through it all hopefully we all still have our health and a source of love and encouragement to dwell on. Know that if you’re reading this newsletter then you are part of a special bond whose origin will always hold true. We were built on love, charity, and esteem; three characteristics that never go out of style, especially these days. We all have different lives with different circumstances but know this, with the right perspective in any situation, we can get through it and come out on top. Given the pandemic uprooting a lot of our daily routines and norms, we encourage all brothers to take a step back, and use this unprecedented time to not only love your friends and family a little bit more but also self-audit yourself, your daily routine, and your habits. Use the pandemic to your advantage, don’t wait to improve yourself but rather use it as the catalyst, or the disruptor/jolt needed to kickstart your mind and body to improve. YITB – Drew

2020 ALUMNI WEEKEND

You spoke, we listened. This year's Alumni Weekend will include a few changes to help us reach the 100-brother attendance goal!

At the 2019 Alumni Weekend Chapter meeting, it was evident from brothers in attendance and those that were not there, the cost of the weekend was restricting full participation from all brothers interested.

This year's alumni weekend is scheduled for August 29th – 30th and the cost will be significantly reduced! We want our brotherhood together.

Tentative Schedule

- Golf Outing (Friday morning)
- Private Event (Fri. Night at The Rickhouse)
- Alumni Meeting (Sat. Morning) – We will vote on the Basement Restoration Project!
- ECU v. Marshall Football Tailgate (TBD)
- ECU v. Marshall Football Game (TBD)
- Late Night (Depending on Kickoff Time)

How we reach 100 brothers?

- Easy!
- Everyone who attended in 2018 OR 2019 returns
- Everyone who attended in 2018 OR 2019 motivates just ONE (1) more brother to attend that hasn't before

Note – we will monitor the coronavirus situation and adjust the plan, if necessary

BROTHERHOOD STORY

The Basement recently noticed a stellar move by one of its Lambda Psi brothers, Mr. Scott Harris, Scroll 430 out of Winterville, NC.

Lambda-Psi brother, Scroll 430 Scott Harris is not only someone just awarded Top Producing Individual Agent at RE/MAX Preferred Realty for 2019 (reach out for your real estate or investment needs in Greenville) but he also cares about small business in these trying times. Recently, Scott took it upon himself to do what he could to help local Greenville businesses. What's that phrase we learned at TKE..." willing to lend a helping hand". Never so evident than seeing Scott carry out this commitment during unprecedented times with coronavirus. Thank you, Scott.

10 Greenville Businesses

On March 26th, Scott posted on Facebook, "I have been sitting around thinking about ways I can help my community and friends. So I came up with an idea and I am calling it the "Gift Card Challenge". I went out today and bought 10 Gift Cards for $25 each from locally owned businesses. So, I am challenging all of you to go out and buy 10 Gift Cards from locally owned businesses and post them on FB. They don't have to be all restaurants and they can be any amount. Let's make this thing go viral and help our friends and neighbors who are struggling in this environment.

Let's follow Scott's lead!

BROTHERHOOD BIOS

Since 1968, TKE Lambda Psi Chapter has built proven leaders. Our sacred bond, held faithful by so many, was committed to for each of us to become the best version of ourselves. We cannot let this bond, cultivated during undergrad, die as alumni. As we start this chapter's new reality, the journey back to ECU campus, the brotherhood bio section highlights our storied fraternity men coming from all walks of life with dynamic skillsets. Our chapter is full of talented leaders able to do so much for each other.

The brotherhood bio section serves as that bridge over water to introduce brothers from all eras and hopefully accelerate our ability to help one another. If you see someone you would like to connect to [growing your personal & professional network!] then reach out, you already established common ground just by being fraternity brothers. Our hope as an alumni executive team is to add value so we can maintain a robust, mobilized alumni association. Each bio will feature the brother's name, scroll number, current location, why TKE is important, unique facts, and finally what skillset that brother feels they are experts in. The featured bio will continue in each volume of The Basement and our goal is to strengthen the bond and build deeper connections across our alumni base.

WE NEED YOUR BIO!

Please contact Matt Kraus (matthew.richard.kraus@gmail.com) to be featured in an upcoming issue of The Basement!

Name: Larry Thompson
Scroll Number: 495 (Spring '01)
City/State: Moseley, VA

Why is TKE important to me?

The friendships I have made will last a lifetime.

Memorable TKE Experience:

Champagne Breakfast!!! It was always great to flood the front yard and get a little crazy.

Unique Facts:

I still love Natural Light and Busch Light as much as I did in college!

Skills/Occupation:

Brokerage Sales

Why is TKE important to me?

Joining TKE is one of the few things I did during college that I feel made me a better person. I met some of my best friends through TKE and really developed lifetime bonds with these men. While I may have been pushed into joining by my older brother, Brian scroll 523, I am truly thankful that I was invited to join this great organization which helped to develop me into the man I am today.

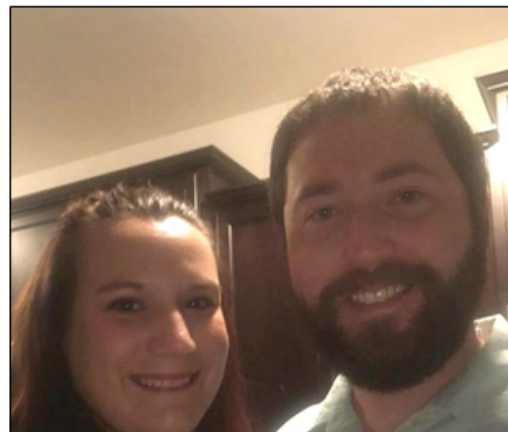

Memorable TKE Experience:

Man it's hard to think of just one. While there were plenty of unforgettable parties, the one thing I always remember is every one coming together to help me while I was sick. I spent weeks on that chapter room couch, wasting away, and it seemed like there was always someone checking on me every day, making sure I was eating or just providing company. I got plenty of rides to and from class, until finally during homecoming I was forced to go to hospital. Brian was nice enough to make sure that I wasn't faking, and I was able to come back none the worse for wear the next semester.

BTW Kraus, I never forgot about you eating my Little Debbie's while I was gone!

[editor's note: Kraus was one the primary brothers who

Name: Chad Smith
Scroll Number: 563 (Spring '07)
City/State: Garner, NC

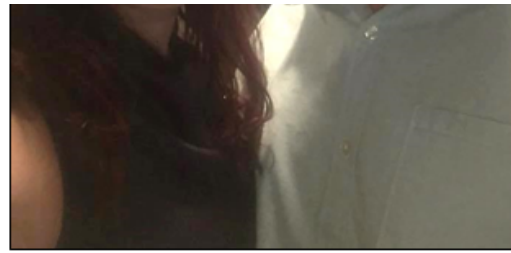

forced Chad to go to the hospital. Chad could've died if he had waited too much longer. The Little Debbie's were a fair trade]

Unique Facts:

I once pissed for 107 seconds straight. That might be a record.
[editor's note: amateur numbers]

Skills/Occupation:

I am currently a physician assistant for an urgent care. I have pulled all kinds of things out of people's orifices it's ridiculous. It smells as bad as you imagine.

Name: Robert Curlee (Curlee Bob)
Scroll Number: 112 (Spring '73)
City/State: Southern Pines, NC

Why is TKE important to me?

TKE is important to me because it's where I spent the most exciting and fun times of my life! Memories that will truly never be forgotten.

Memorable TKE Experience:

Too many to name, but all with great brothers by my side.

Unique Facts:

I may be the only frater to get married while still an active student member of the fraternity

Marshall Warren, Scroll 138 volunteered to spearhead our effort to assess the basement for future use options. Please contact him if you want to help!

LATEST UPDATE

- A. The TKE House is currently faced with a sewage back up issue that flooded portions of the house requiring remediation including the basement. There is an investigation going on right now to determine if the plumber who was originally contacted to fix the issue made it worse. There's also a growing suspicion the original clog was caused by feminine products being flushed down the toilet, but time will tell.
- B. More to follow as there will be an insurance claim submitted which may provide a silver lining. We believe there's a high probability the insurance claim would include eliminating our regress issue that was mentioned in January's newsletter.
- C. We have received one bid from a general contractor (with the intention of obtaining

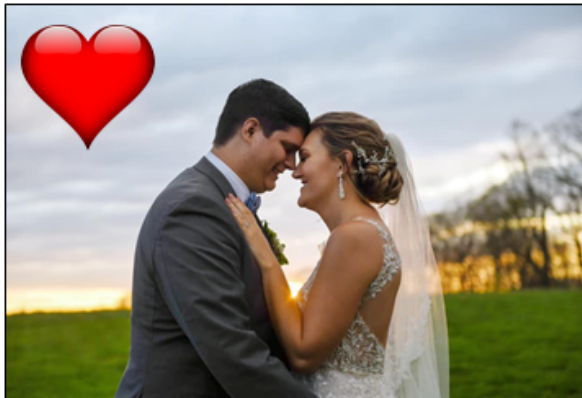

- C. We have received a one bid from a general contractor (with the intention of obtain two more) to draw plans for attacking the basement overall given known actions that have to occur if we were to overhaul the basement (e.g., it has been confirmed the exit leading to the back door is not adequate to be considered an exit and one must be created).
- D. We will not move forward with any drawings or blueprints from the general contractors until we determine the extent of our insurance claim for the sewage back up issue.
- E. As a reminder, the Alumni Association will present a business case at this year's Alumni Weekend Chapter meeting so those in attendance can vote on if we will move to approve the proposal and commit to the actions OR decide the cost, level of effort, and timing is not appropriate.

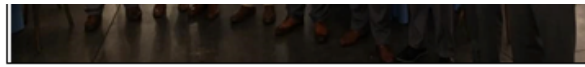

SPECIAL CONGRATULATIONS

On Saturday, March 21st, 2020 at Summerfield Farms, a locally owned and family operated venue located just north of Greensboro, North Carolina our fraternity brother Grant Patterson, Scroll 622, wed the beautiful Madison McCall Patterson under a picturesque setting filled with love, laughter, and a little bit of rain (for good luck!).

When Basement News Team Channel 6 caught up with Madison we asked her how the big day went, she replied, "Yesterday was absolutely beautiful! We had beautiful weather, almost forgot the marriage license (thank you dad for the save!!), we spent the day surrounded by amazing friends and family, as it came time for me to walk down the aisle it started raining, then went into a pour! We got through the ceremony not terribly soaked (most of us anyway) and went into the after party and amazing sunset photos. I can't begin to describe how amazing our wedding was!

BROTHER TO BROTHER

The Teke Experience

Recently a question came up about how “similar” the Teke Experience has been for the Newer (and obviously younger) “Era” Fraters when compared to older “Era” Dinosaurs like me and all those Eras in between. Maybe a better question is how different was the Teke Experience for the many Eras of Fraters over the 50+ Years of Teke-dom? Or, for the most part, except for clothing style, pop music and the different definitions of “legal”, has that experience been pretty much the same for all of us ECU Tekes regardless of when we pledged?

It is an interesting question... Is it as one of our great Lambda-Psi philosophers, Chip Russell, has said frequently over the years, “Boys will be Boys...” to explain our many excesses. Maybe we can extend Chip’s insight to mean, “Tekes will be Tekes” no matter what year we were born.

In this edition’s pursuit to uncover how realistic can it be to speculate that we can Relate as Brothers to each other since we have 50+ years of ECU Teke-dom with over 700 of us fraters passing through 951’s door, Doc Lewis caught up with Fraters Jim Kevil and Kevin Robinson.

I had the chance recently to introduce Kevin Robinson, Scroll #624, to Jim Kevil, Scroll # 140, via phone. We talked for about an hour. After a few minutes the distance, the natural reserve we all have when talking to strangers was soon replaced with a familiarity and with several “Oh.

yeah... know what you mean” and “Been there”. Kevin and Jim had a 39+ year big time gap between their Teke Experiences. That’s a lot of time and potential cultural differences.

But what I continue to find is that 95 I was a melting pot that spans that time and differences.

Please judge yourself with the following:

BROTHER TO BROTHER

Kevin pledged in 2014 and Jim pledged in 1975. Kevin grew up in NC. His parents moved to there from NY and Jim is from a small town, Sparta, NJ about an hour SW from NYC. Kevin pledged his Sophomore year and Jim pledged his Freshman year. Kevin was elected President his Junior year. Both were very involved in leadership. Jim recently handled all direct alumni negotiations of the Teke House’s lease to Phi Mu Sorority. Kevin currently is leading sales for a technology company based in Raleigh. Jim recently sold his new car dealership franchise in Sparta after leading it for many years. His wife keeps him out of trouble now by insisting that he assist her with her very successful real estate business (I suspect that his assistance is limited to putting up signs and moves heavy stuff).

So, both Kevin and Jim are sales focused gunslingers.

What do you remember most about your times being a Teke:

Kevin: “There was always someone around the Teke House. It was my spot to go. It was my home and community. The boys were always within reach.”

Jim: “The location of the Teke House was perfect. There was always someone in the TV Room. It was NEVER BORING...I felt I was lucky being a longways from NJ and there at the Teke House was always someone I knew. I am from a small town in the middle of nowhere NJ. I got the experience of meeting a lot of different people. It helped me to be exposed to that difference. I learned to communicate with all these different brothers from different backgrounds. Living in the House with so many diverse people was a great learning experience. It prepares you for real life. Living in the house particularly teaches you how to co-exist.”

Kevin: “When you get into leadership roles you must develop skills to communicate with different personalities. One big skill is that you learn how to give Bad News... I also enjoyed the leaderships role to guide pledges and brothers through college. It was chance to build a better man and to improve the reputation of the fraternity. When I joined our reputation needed a lot of work. We had a reputation for drugs that was undeserved. From that I learned how to build something from nothing. I also had the responsibility to prepare the next level of leadership.”

Jim: “Yeah, we had reputation issues also. Sports and our Boxing Tournaments greatly improved that along with the fun we had at socials. I think our location helped also. Most nice days we had something going on in the front yard. It looked like the Tekes knew how to have fun...”

BROTHER TO BROTHER

What makes you most proud of the Fraternity?

Kevin: “The fraternity’s Wounded Warrior support. We hosted an annual dinner event that raised a lot of money for that worthy cause. Everyone participated. And, I am also proud of the Longevity of Friendship. It is hard to understand what the Teke experience is from the outside. You can’t understand what you haven’t known. “

Jim: “Our project was the TKE Boxing Tournament. It was for a very worth cause, St. Jude’s Children Hospital. Like Kevin, I am very proud of the money we donated. I even continue to contribute to St. Jude now. I saw what we as a fraternity could do together. Those tournaments were instrumental in bonding us together. Just as Kevin said, I am amazed and thankful for the longevity of brotherhood I have experience for all these many years.”

FINANCIAL SNAPSHOT

This section highlights the Alumni Association’s current financial position. We want everyone fully informed as to avoid hearsay, uncertainty, or anything of the like. Transparency is paramount as we rebuild the chapter.

Once we’re able to solidify what our tax impact will be given, we’re now serving as landlords, we’ll be in a better position to provide an updated financial snapshot.

DOC'S CORNER

Fraters: We plan to make an add to Doc's Corner. I will continue recounting some of the stories/events that are part of our Tekedom's history. Hopefully, you smile with these accounts and maybe they remind you of your past days at 951. Additionally, we "hope" to host at least one call per issue of The Basement with 2 Brothers from different TKE ERAs. The idea is to introduce them and share with you their thoughts, similarities of their Teke experiences and the continued importance of their Teke Brotherhood's heritage.

As you know, our brotherhood has an age spread that runs from some of the newest brothers being in their early Twenties to our Founders whose ages may be approaching their Mid-Seventies (if you knew'em back in the day you would be REAL SURPRISED about that longevity). It should be entertaining. The "Theory" is that the Teke Experience continues to touch our hearts, minds and even our pocketbooks. Certainly, there is enough evidentiary examples to believe it is so. Just look at what our Alumni Association has done already to keep the House and its plans to reintroduce Teke to ECU.

If you would like to participate in one of these Brother2Brother calls then get off your sorry butts and contact me! 😊

As you read the following story remember this picture below:

DOC'S CORNER

Bill and Tom's Big Adventure, or How NOT to CLEAN a Carburetor

It was just a normal late school night at the House. A bunch of us were up watching the late movie on one of the 5 channels we got on the TV (Channels 12, 11, 9, 7 & 5). It was a school night, so if there had been any libations, they had been limited to a "couple"... The front door opened and Bill, (AKA "Poppa") burst into the TV Room. He was hurt. He had a couple of ribs cracked or broken and he was in obvious pain from a back injury. His first words to us were, "Tom's in trouble." Poppa then told the story...

He and Ole Tommy (last names are suppressed to protect the guilty) had been at "THE HUT." [THE Official Teke Bar... located behind a nearby convenience store. It had One door in, One pinball machine, 8 or so 5th hand-me-down tables & associated mismatched chairs. They specialized in CHEAP COLD beer and the place was usually populated with local lovelies with nicknames such as "Mule Kick". The story begins with Tom convincing Poppa to go to THE HUT about 8:30 PM and have, "ONE CB (Cold Beer) and ONE GAME of Pinball." The purpose was, "To get their heads right". They needed to study that night for a test the next day. [No GPA details of either Bill or Tom will be included here]

Well, you know that story... After about a dozen Cold CB's Ole Tommy decided it would be good time to "clean the carburetor" on his Chevy Camaro he drove that night. Bill and Tom's Big Adventure was just about to begin. The clock was now approaching Midnight. Tom's process of "cleaning" the carburetor did not require solvents just driving far above the posted Limit. And, that's what they did.

To return to the Teke House from THE HUT you turn LEFT on 10th Street. A RIGHT Turn will quickly lead to a lonesome 2 Lane Road leading to Six Flags Over Chocowinity. It seemed like such a perfect night for another diversion before starting to study and that carburetor really needed attention. As they say, everything was proceeding "speedily" UNTIL (Boom, Boom, Boom) Ole Tommy decided to straighten out a hard-right curve. Tom's trusty and now "clean" carburetor Camaro exited the road, became airborne, jumped a ditch, missed 3 trees and finally stopped 50 yards later in the middle of a wet, recently plowed field. [Frankly, the story should have ended tragically there. We should ONLY be remembering them fondly] Luckily though, Tommy & Poppa were still breathing and only banged up in spite of their near fatal "cleaning" event.

Obviously, their mental acumens were not operating at their usual mediocre rates. But, their "Lizard Sense" (buried deep in the beer hazed cerebrum) was smart enough to realize they did NOT want help from any of Pitt County's finest. AND, they realized if they were to stay far from their deserved legal consequences, they needed to get Tommy's car out of the field before daylight. Unfortunately, Ole Tommy's car was mired up to its axles and would not exit stage left without considerable extra manpower.

DOC'S CORNER

What's a man to do?? [By the way, this all happened back in the 70's. You know pre-cellular...] Our 2-Man Carburetor Cleaning Crew was mired-up about 10 miles outside of Greenville. It was now after 1:00 AM. Only a few hours of darkness were left to get Tommy's car out of the field before a local sheriff's rounds might find them and do more than just ask, "What are you two drunk scoundrels doing out here?" Poppa was hurting but he fumbled his way over to the road. He saw a car heading towards Greenville and waved it down. Okay, ask yourself this question... Would you stop and pick up an obviously inebriated, muddy, unkempt individual on a dark road in the middle of nowhere? Well, many such kind folks do exist in Eastern NC.

One of those kind folks was driving the car heading towards Poppa and stopped. He then chauffeured Poppa directly to the front door of the TekeHouse... This wasn't the only fortuitous (2nd) event of the night! (Not being impaled on a tree was their 1st fortuitous event).

Okay, the story moves back to the TV Room... It was in that moment when Poppa walked into that TV Room and said, "Tom's in trouble" I knew right then I was part of a REAL Brotherhood. Everyone there was ready to help their Brother Tommy. There was not a single, "It's so late" or "I have an early class." All I heard was, "Tom's in trouble. Let's go." We even woke everyone sleeping upstairs and they ALL jumped up and got ready to help Tom.

A lot of things quickly came together. Again, fortuitously (3rd time), Fast Eddie was in the TV Room. He and another Teke brother who was sleeping upstairs, "Landus", had gone to the same high school. They had worked together part time at a gas station. Part of their work was operating a tow truck service. Quite fortuitously (4th), Landus' brother lived in Greenville and owned a tow truck (Amazing!). Landus borrowed it for our mission (5th) and that MUST HAVE BEEN SOME LATENIGHT CALL he made to his brother getting that permission.

We saddled-up everyone in the House along with the borrowed tow truck and set our caravan on the task of finding Tom. Poppa's description of the location was pretty sketchy. He was in way too much pain to lead us back (We gave him a beer from our Emergency Stockpile kept for just such occasions). Finding Tom & the Camaro was a lot easier than getting the Camaro out of that muddy field. We had to winch/drag it about 50 yards just to get it over to ditch next to the highway. Those Carburetor Cleaners were fortuitous or there was divine intervention that kept them from being maimed for life or worse. They had literally been catapulted over a ditch, narrowly missed hitting 3 trees and had not rolled over a dozen times (Seat Belts?? We don't need no stinking seat belts!!).

Fast Eddie and Landus were a hoot to watch working together that night. They had a lot of towed cars found in ditches, fields, and along I-95 in their past. They knew exactly how and what to do. Landus almost continuously made hilarious jibs at Eddie... "What are you doing back there Eddie? Making a sandwich..." Okay, maybe that doesn't translate as "funny" by your definition reading this now BUT when it was going on 4:00 in the morning in a muddy field then it was pretty funny...

DOC'S CORNER

It took us a good 3 hours of hard dirty work to get that clean carburetor'd Camaro out of that muddy field, across the ditch and attached to the tow truck for the quick burst back to G-ville... AND, IT TOOK ALL OF US!

We towed the mighty Camaro back to Greenville and parked it at Kings Row Apartments before any of Pitt County's Finest discovered us/it. Mission Accomplished! That was one sad looking muddy car sitting in the middle of Kings Row's parking lot. It looked as if it had been dropped out of a dirty sky but it was in amazing good shape in spite of its "adventure." That night, about 44 years ago, was a great example/definition of "Teke Brotherhood"... Tom had been "in trouble" and HIS BROTHERS without question, complaint or beer (We even left the beer at the House) immediately stepped-up to help.

During "my Teke ERA", the Middle to Late 1970's, there were many occasions when "_____'s in trouble". Those troubles sometimes were serious and seemed monumental. Often, they were just plain dumb in retrospect. Sometimes it was just as simple as someone needed help with a class.

There's been a lot of dramatic comedy around 951 over its half century. Occasionally, there was real tragedy such as when Al Meeks was killed in a senseless traffic accident. In all those times and ways, you could always count on your Brothers to saddle-up and support you. I am sure each of you from your own Teke ERA can recall numerous times when one of your brothers found himself "In trouble". Maybe it was even you. Through it all "we" stuck together. Those "troubles" further bonded us together at 951 and those bonds linger within each of us even to today.

As a personal note, I have been a Lambda-Psi Teke for approximately 2,612+ weeks. Through it all, it has been a comfort to know that it has never been a journey alone. Thanks!
Teke for Life!

A LOOK BACK

There were no better times then spending a warm day hanging on the porch at 951 E. 10th St. as classes let out, and a cold brew was waiting on us to toast the day. The below pictures will serve as a look back into times like that to remind us who we are from 1968 onward...Enjoy!

ALUMNI BOARD CONTACT INFO

The Lambda Psi Alumni Association Board is here to serve. We ask you to join us in re-building our chapter's foundation. It is easy to walk away, it is easy not risk failure, and it is easy to not be vulnerable. The new Lambda Psi experiment is underway and when thinking about what type of men we need for this journey, the following excerpt from a 1910 speech delivered in Paris, France by President Theodore Roosevelt comes to mind:

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, who comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat."

Reach out to anyone below to get involved. We need more strong hands to commit small actions so we can reach our large goal of building Lambda Psi into the premier ECU fraternity.
